

Michael Charney
Colliers

Michael is a Director in the Strategic Investments group at Colliers, a leading global professional services and investment management firm with operations in 68 countries. The Strategic Investments Group is responsible for allocating the firm's capital across Colliers' multiple operating verticals including real estate services, investment management, mortgage banking & public finance, engineering services, and project management. As a public company, Colliers has significant insider ownership and has delivered compound annual returns of over 20% to shareholders.

Previously, Michael was an investment banker in the Mergers & Acquisitions group at RBC Capital Markets.