Our Coding Division

Nancy Clark leads our team with an expertise in coding and documentation audits, including chart review and report compilation. She has over 25 years of experience, which includes health care consulting, medical coding and billing, accounting and business management.

She has been recognized as a Fellow by the American Academy of Professional Coders (AAPC), is an AAPC Approved Instructor, and has taught medical coding and billing to students in preparation for the AAPC Certified Professional Coder (CPC) examination.

Credentials include:

- Certified Professional Coder (CPC)
- Certified Professional Medical Auditor (CPMA)
- Certified Outpatient Coder (COC)
- Certified Professional Biller (CPB)
- Certified Professional Coding Instructor (CPC-I)

Evaluation and Management 2021 Guideline Changes

Sweeping changes to Evaluation and Management coding present a challenging learning curve and steep consequences. Without proper coding and documentation, claims can be denied or retroactively audited and reimbursement recouped, which has a significant impact on revenue.

Proper implementation will be critical to appropriate billing and preparing for impending audits.

Our introductory E/M Assess offers a high-level overview of your practice's E/M coding to identify if documentation supports these new guidelines. This service will help you identify practice-level problems and address them with education delivered by a Certified Professional Coding Instructor.

E/M Assess Introductory Service

E/M Assess provides physician practices with an overview evaluation of how well their E/M documentation supports the E/M code under the new MDM and time-based requirements for 2021 and a basic overview video training.

It includes:

- Initial discussion with lead physician or practice manager regarding coding concerns within the practice to focus our efforts on your individual needs.
- Review of ten medical record dates of service, focusing on E/M 2021 coding issues as well as your identified concerns.
- Session to review findings and recommendations.
- A formal remote education session on new coding guidelines, as well as some targeted areas based on the limited coding review.

Full suite of services

EisnerAmper offers a range of coding and documentation services, including a more granular coding review, provider education, and audit assistance. Ask us for details.

The Office of Inspector General recommends a Coding and Documentation Review as part of a robust compliance plan.
